First Year Advising:

The Office of First Year Advising serves the academic and course needs of all first-time, college students. These services are available in Room 122 of the Central High Building on Central Campus or by calling 704.330.6454.

First Year Financial Aid:

Funding an education is a major financial commitment for students and, perhaps, for their families as well. Central Piedmont Community College's Financial Aid office encourages each student to apply for financial aid. The First Year Financial Aid office is dedicated to helping students and families plan for the future by helping to create a personal education plan, evaluating costs, applying for financial assistance and providing various types of financial support such as, scholarships, grants and campus employment opportunities.

The First Year Financial Aid office is located in the Central High Building on Central Campus in Room 112. Contact the FYE Financial Aid office by phone at 704.330.2722, extension 3671.
