

Academic Learning Center (ALC)

The Ruth G. Shaw Academic Learning Center (ALC) is a comprehensive tutorial center that provides assistance to CPEC students enrolled in curriculum courses. The center, located on Central Campus, in the Central High Building, Room 103, provides assistance to students in the following key areas: math, science, writing and study skills. The ALC promotes independent learning and the development of skills necessary to support academic and life-long learning success. Group instruction sessions are offered, along with one-to-one tutoring sessions arranged by appointment. The Central Campus ALC also houses a computer lab for student use with limited assistance.

Tutoring Services also are available on:

- Cato Campus at Harris Boulevard and Grier Road,
- Levine Campus in Matthews, and
- Merancas Campus in Huntersville.

Schedules vary by location. For further information, contact the ALC at 704.330.6474 or visit the Academic Learning website (http://www.cpec.edu/academic_learning).
